

Include Profound Autism in the Autism CARES Act of 2024 (H.R. 7213)

Over time, federally funded autism research and services have become increasingly diluted, with little focus on those who require lifetime, 24/7 care.

“ NIH has followed several key practices to coordinate agency programs and activities but could do more. For example, NIH could track its progress toward goals to help agencies better allocate resources where they are most needed.”

Autism

We are not asking for special treatment. We simply ask to be treated equally to others included in research funded through Autism CARES.

Please insist on clarity and accountability in the 2024 Autism CARES Reauthorization.
